Freedom generally refers to the state of being free from constraints, limitations, or restrictions. It encompasses the ability to make choices, express oneself and pursue one's desires without undue interference or control from external forces. Freedom can manifest in various forms:

**Political Freedom** **Personal Freedom:** ** Economic Freedom:****
Freedom from Oppression:** ** Cultural and Artistic Freedom and Freedom of Association:****

It's important to note that while freedom is highly valued, it is not absolute. Society often places limits on freedom to prevent harm to others or to maintain order. Balancing individual freedoms with the common good and societal norms can be complex and subject to ongoing debate.

Indian leaders throughout history have articulated various perspectives on the concept of freedom, reflecting the diverse nature of India's struggle for independence and its subsequent development as a democratic nation. A few quotes from notable Indian leaders about freedom:

B.R. Ambedkar:****

- "Freedom of mind is the real freedom. A person whose mind is not free though he may not be in chains, is a slave not a free man. One whose mind is not free, though he may not be in prison is a prisoner and not a free man. One whose mind is not free though alive, is no better than dead. Freedom of mind is the proof of one's existence."

**Sardar Patel:****

- "Every citizen of India must remember that he is an Indian and he has every right in this country but with certain duties."

These quotes reflect the leaders' dedication to the ideals of freedom, justice, equality and the well-being of the Indian people. The struggle for independence was a complex journey and each leader had their own approach and philosophy.

Message from Director-Principal (Seema Sheoran Ji)

After taking blessings from our eternal and spiritual Guru MAA ji, she expressed her feelings on this auspicious day, as we celebrate the 77th year of our nation's freedom, it fills our hearts with pride and gratitude. Our journey from being a colony to a sovereign nation has been one of unwavering dedication, sacrifice and unity. As we hoist our tricolor flag high, let's take a moment to reflect on the significance of this day and what it means for each one of us.

Independence Day is a day of remembrance and renewal. It's a reminder of the struggles endured by countless individuals who dreamt of a free India. It's a tribute to the visionaries who envisioned a nation where every citizen would have the right to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

As students, you are the torchbearers of our nation's future. Each one of you has the potential to contribute positively to our society. Use your education as a tool to bring about positive change, to eradicate ignorance and to foster inclusivity. Just as our forefathers fought for our freedom, let us work together to fight against inequality, injustice and intolerance.

She expressed her gratitude to the soldiers, doctors, essential workers and all those who selflessly serve our nation. Their dedication and sacrifice deserve our utmost respect.

At last she extended her heartfelt gratitude to the Chief Guests for giving their precious time and blessing the students. She specially thanks to the Choreographer Mr. Hitesh and his team and each and every one of SPS family members for incredible dedication and hard work in making a resounding success of the Event.
